

Sustainability at InterContinental Dublin

Luxury, thoughtfully considered

At InterContinental Dublin, we believe that luxury today is about more than elegance and comfort—it's about care. Care for the experience we offer, the materials we choose, and the impact we have on the world around us.

As Dublin's only true urban resort, we're proud to combine five-star hospitality with thoughtful sustainability. From the herbs grown in our garden and the Irish producers featured on our menus, to the energy-saving systems behind the scenes and the partnerships we nurture within our community, every detail is considered with purpose.

Sustainability at InterContinental Dublin is not a statement—it's how we operate, evolve, and welcome you.

Our Sustainability Journey

Progress, Purpose and a Commitment to do more

As Dublin's only true urban resort, we recognise the importance of protecting the environment while delivering exceptional experiences. Sustainability is a key focus across our operations, and we are proud of the progress we have made to date—with much more to come.

Since beginning our sustainability journey, we have:

- Reduced our CO₂ emissions by 15% in the last year, with a target of 46% reduction by 2030.
- Sourced 50% of our energy from renewable sources, including smart metering and efficiency tracking across electricity, water, and gas.
- Eliminated over 31,700 single-use plastic toiletry bottles by introducing luxury refillable amenities in all guest rooms.
- Replaced plastic water bottles with Tetra Pak cartons, saving over 2,100 bottles since late 2023
- Achieved 90% LED lighting across the property, with motion sensors and timed systems to reduce usage in back-of-house and public spaces.
- Set a target to reduce water usage by 10% in 2025, supported by water-saving initiatives in rooms and facilities.
- Diverted the majority of waste from landfill through recycling, composting, responsible disposal of electronics and lightbulbs, and donation of surplus food.
- Earned Gold accreditation from Green Tourism, in recognition of our ongoing improvements and operational standards.
- Our journey is ongoing. With the support of our guests and team, we continue to invest in smart systems, sustainable sourcing, and energy-efficient technologies—ensuring that every stay contributes to a greener future.

The Spa at Intercontinental Dublin

Sustainable Wellness at our Spa

The Spa at InterContinental Dublin offers a peaceful escape in the heart of the city—where mindful luxury and sustainability go hand in hand.

We are proud to partner with ESPA, using only their organic, cruelty-free products in all treatments. Refillable dispensers are used throughout the spa to help reduce single-use plastics, without compromising on indulgence or care.

Energy-conscious systems help us manage water and temperature with minimal impact—ensuring a serene experience that's also thoughtfully efficient.

Fresh herbal teas and spa refreshments are sourced from Irish producers, and our towel and linen programme supports responsible laundering to conserve water and energy.

Small changes, made with care, help us deliver a more considered spa experience.

Sustainability on the Menu

At InterContinental Dublin, our food philosophy is rooted in simplicity, seasonality, and sustainability.

Across all our dining experiences—from relaxed lunches to elegant evening meals—we are proud to showcase the best of Irish produce, sourced with care and prepared with purpose.

We partner with trusted suppliers who share our commitment to quality and responsibility:

- Kish Fish – Sustainable seafood, Origin Green certified

- The Gnomes – Regenerative herb growers
- Valrhona – World-leading producers of ethical chocolate

Our chefs work closely with these artisan producers to create menus that reflect Ireland's changing seasons—featuring fresh herbs, native vegetables, and thoughtfully sourced ingredients from across the island.

Sustainable sourcing also extends to our wine and beverage list, with a growing selection of organic and low-intervention labels. We are continuously reducing food waste and eliminating single-use plastics wherever possible.

Nurturing Nature

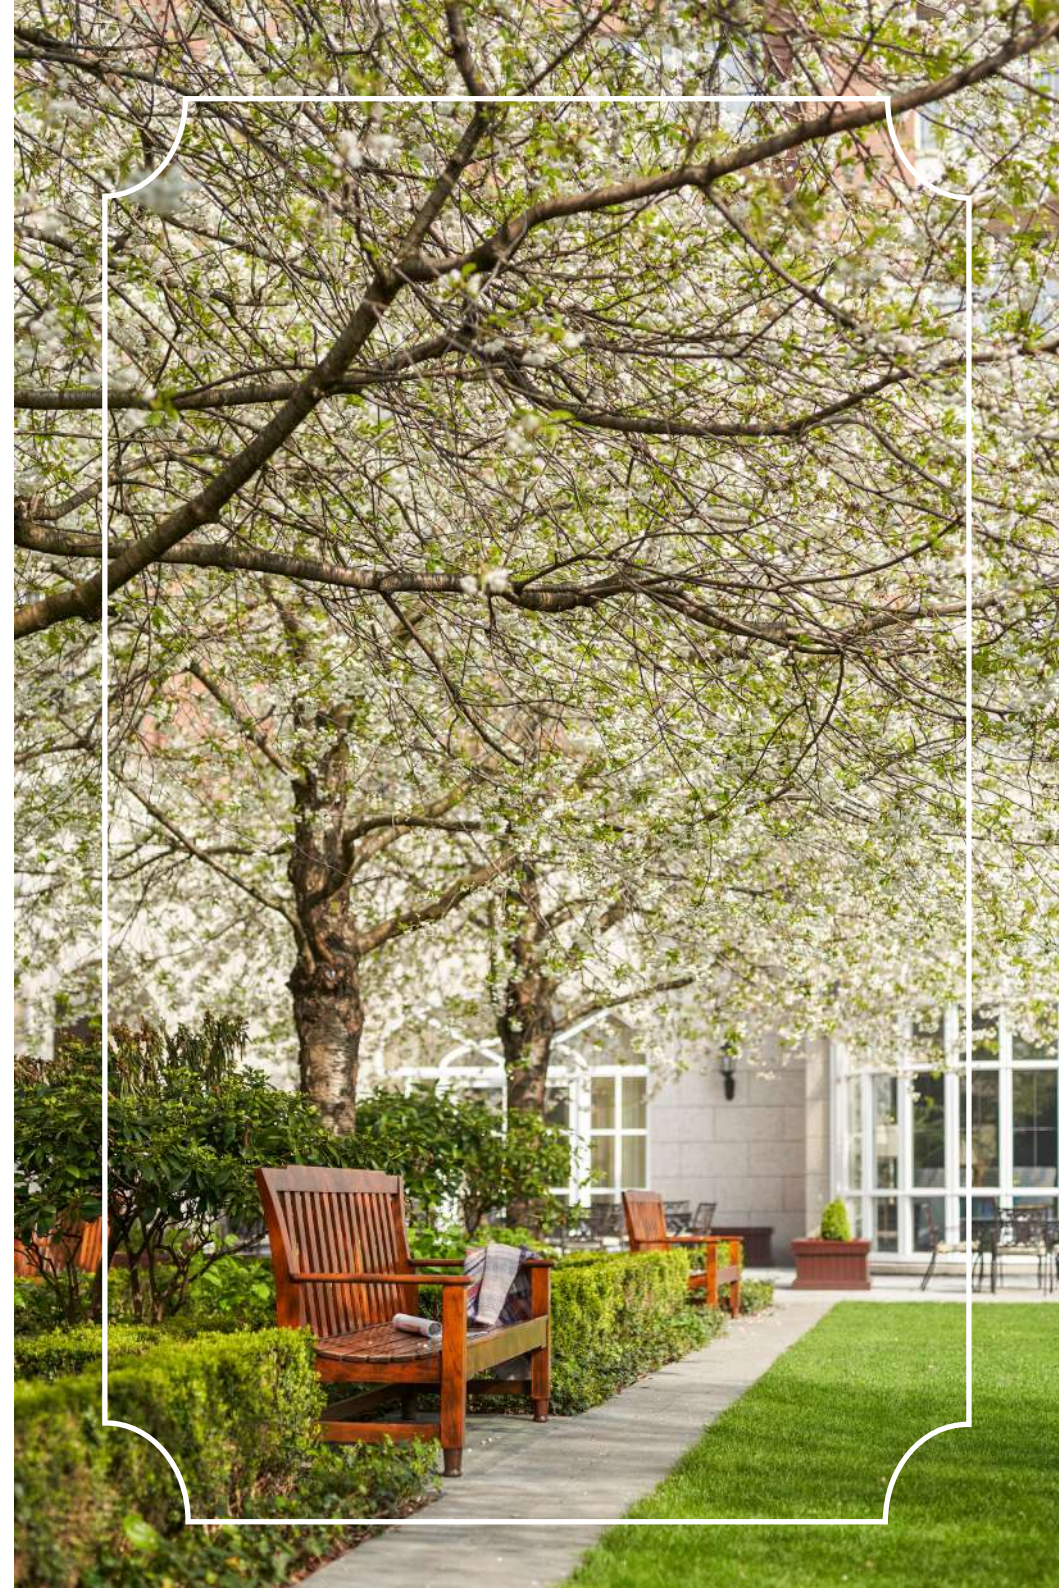

Our Commitment to Biodiversity and Sustainable Gardening

At InterContinental Dublin, our gardens offer a peaceful retreat in the heart of the city, set on two acres, they are beautifully maintained with a light touch and a focus on long-term sustainability.

Our in-house gardener, Nick, tends to the grounds using eco-conscious methods, including composting plant cuttings and growing many herbs and flowers from seed. We follow organic-based gardening principles and avoid the use of harsh chemical treatments, helping protect local ecosystems and pollinators.

Over 4,000 pollinator-friendly bulbs and native perennials have been planted to encourage biodiversity throughout the year, complemented by a small kitchen herb garden and thoughtful features like our discreet insect hotel—designed to support urban pollinators.

This approach reflects our belief that even in an urban setting, nature should be nurtured—quietly and responsibly.
